I couple of months ago I was talking to my mother-in-law about this sickening in justice and bought up connie's name. She knew of her and told a story about connie and her son dating years ago, connie was abusing as in hitting and slapping her son at her house in her drive way and my mother-in-laws husband who has since past told connie to get off thier property. They lived in Winchester WI, and connie lived in Hurley so she had to walk home. She ended up calling my in-laws in next day saying she got raped and it was all their faults. I don't know if this would help. I follow this story and feel sick to my stomach about it all. Good luck Don and God Bless you and your family
