Dear Mr. Lipske,

Today, after nearly 11-years in prison for something which you absolutely know I did not do, I went before the Parole Board. They noted my excellent behavior and “tremendous community support” but denied parole because you and Connie oppose it and claimed my release would “seriously depreciate the seriousness of the crime.” There was no crime.

Though Judge Madden did not oppose my parole, you and Connie did. Ever the actor and liar, Connie claims she is still “traumatized.” By WHAT? She is a sick person. Despite irrefutable evidence proving she falsely accused me, her confessions of my innocence, fact that her sister is an eyewitness to the fact there was no assault, phone records proving she lied profusely under oath and wasn't at my home during the time she claimed she was assaulted, and fact that all of her friends are now against her and on my side. etc., she keeps up the charade by opposing my parole, which is her second act of RETALIATION triggered by our websites that expose her for what she is. The first act of RETALIATION was her false accusation against me in 2005, which you now admit was a lie.

You used lies to obtain my conviction; were caught telling lies in this case; destroyed and conceal evidence; refuse to investigate prior to or since trial; ignore all evidence proving me falsely accused; an eyewitness told you Connie is lying; phone records prove she committed perjury and prove her story false; she has 6-different stories on record; the doctor DISPROVED her specific claims where she said she was “punched in the face” many times, yet no mark on her face; said she was “choked and strangled,” yet no mark on her neck; claimed “rape” (after denying it), yet the hospital lab found no evidence of rape and the doctor testified the sexual part of his exam was “normal.” You also know Connie confesses my innocence to friends, and that all of her friends are now on my side, as is the entire community. All this barely scratches the surface.

Yet you oppose my parole when in fact you should be seeking my release by every possible means. Clearly, refusing to do your job by investigating and seeking my release is a breach of your duties and public trust, unethical, proves involvement in a criminal conspiracy and that you harbor criminals. Your opposing parole is your RETALIATION for the websites exposing YOU for who and what you are! You've added fuel to the fire.

Sincerely,
